THE YETI STORY

Brothers Roy and Ryan Seiders were born and raised in Driftwood, Texas where their father, Roger Seiders, instilled in them a love for the wild, taking them hunting and fishing, and encouraging time in the outdoors. Thanks to Roger, an avid fisherman and entrepreneur himself, a hands-on, never settle spirit runs deep in the DNA of our founders. He showed them the success that can come from solving a common problem in an innovative way – in his case it was with shellacs and varnishes for fishing rods.

As adults, Roy and Ryan applied this thinking to their own frustration with coolers that couldn't stand up to the demands of serious anglers, and that would ultimately cut their adventures and good times short.

In 2006, they founded YETI Coolers with a product built specifically for the serious outdoor enthusiast, and in 2008 YETI introduced exceptional durability and ice retention to the market, with the now-legendary Tundra® Hard Cooler. Professional anglers were quick to adopt it, rounding out their top-of-the-line arsenal of fishing gear. It wasn't long before the Tundra met more like-minded folks out west in the fly fishing, river rafting, and backcountry outfitter communities.

The brand has continued to grow and develop products on the principle of innovative design and rugged durability, making gear that enhances and extends your time in the wild.

Ryan Seiders rigged a plank of wood to an old cooler so it was strong enough to stand on while casting, which inspired him and his brother to create the first YETI Cooler.

BOTTLES

The water bottle is probably one of the single most indispensable pieces of gear. With a Rambler® Bottle, ice water stays ice cold even on the hottest days. They’re built to get tossed around and then put in the dishwasher when all’s said and done.

You can go from quick chugs of water to a nice, civilized pour of coffee without changing your bottle (although you may want to give it a rinse in between).

SUSTAINABILITY AT THE OFFICE

A commitment to high-performing, durable, and reusable products is part of the original YETI story. Our founders were frustrated that their coolers would leak and break and needed to be replaced every season, or sooner. Food and ice would go to waste, and the cooler itself ended up in the garbage – creating unnecessary waste. Fast forward, YETI was created on a promise of reliability and durability with products that not only perform when you need them to but play an important role in your company's commitment to environmental stewardship.

You can set your workplace apart with re-usable products. Swapping plastic water bottles and paper coffee cups for insulated, dishwasher-safe YETI Drinkware not only reduces waste, but keeps water cold and coffee hot.

Purchase YETI Drinkware for your staff and customize it with your company logo to promote your sustainability initiatives. Go a step further and create a loaner drinkware program for the office that your employees can use during the workday.

Your employees care about making a positive impact. YETI Drinkware is a great way to help them make a difference.

THE YETI “LOANER” PROGRAM

Together, we can make a big impact in eliminating plastic waste just by replacing in-office plastic bottles and disposable foam cups with reusable YETI® Drinkware that your employees can borrow while at work.

Your employees will appreciate that their coffee or tea is kept hot through busy mornings, and that their ice water doesn't leave condensation messes on the desk and still keeps water ice cold. Keep a set of reusable dishwasher safe Rambler® Drinkware at the coffee shop and water cooler to encourage their use. Or even give them as gifts for new hires.

It's easy to get into the program.

Starting with our first customized ramblers in 2015, we've used our best efforts to avoid creating custom products with political affiliations or associations. Because the process we use to identify political affiliations and associations involves human judgment, we may inadvertently accept an order and mark a YETI product with a candidate's name or campaign slogan simply because we weren't familiar with it when the order was placed. If that happens, it's an honest mistake and shouldn't be construed as YETI's endorsement of a particular affiliation or association (unless, of course, we explicitly make a statement of endorsement).

YETI respects the intellectual property rights of others and we ask that you do the same. By purchasing any custom product on through the site, you represent and warrant that your requested design does not violate anyone else's rights, including copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets, privacy or other rights. YETI may terminate the account of any customer who infringes, or may infringe, the copyright, trademark or other intellectual property rights of others.

A customization fee may apply for some custom products. Please review your customized item carefully prior to submitting your order; customized items may not be cancelled or returned once the order has been submitted. YETI is not responsible for any errors or mistakes that have been approved.
